

16.11.2006

LETTER OF RECOMMENDATION

TO: WHOM IT MAY CONCERN

RE: Need One Soon?
Proprietor: John Allum

As House Manager of 85 retirement apartments I have a lot of Residents to keep happy. Usually contractors on site cause some kind of problem, be it parking, dirt, noise and even rudeness.

John's company has always shown consideration and informed me as to when they will be on site, adhering to the guidelines set down by our management, restrictions of hours, use of radio's, etc.

The "guys" he employs have always been polite, considerate and courteous to all my Residents (and there's one or two who can be a little demanding, ask John for his version). John consults with his clients on designs and has fitted numerous kitchens and bathrooms, with stunning results. The quality of their workmanship speaks for itself, as they are called back to Homemanor time and time again to design and fit yet more kitchens and bathrooms.

John will always be in demand for his team of workers are conscientious and their skills are obvious. Residents talk amongst themselves and word soon gets round when people are delighted by the results that are delivered. The consensus is good! I am confident that John will be visiting our site for many more years to come; his professional manner and his commitment to his clients seem genuine.

Regards

Sharon Goodwin
House Manager